

Notes From Dee July 2, 2018

Dear Laurel Families,

Although the heat is intense today, Planet Protectors began today, and as we know, Summer is Cool in Laurel School! For our students who are attending summer session, welcome! We will be learning new concepts and exploring ways to save our planet as we review skills to keep our reading and math sharp.

For our students who are on vacation or have other plans for the summer, remember to read and write daily to keep your skills active. Perhaps you could write a letter or an email to someone. Maybe you could keep journal about the events happening around you this summer, so that when you return to Laurel, you will have a reminder of the fun you had while you were away.

Parents, we have been busy meeting new families this summer, who are interested in sending their children to Laurel School. We hear all the time about the positive difference Laurel has made in your children's lives, how we "give you your family back" because school is no longer a constant source of family stress. Before bringing your children to Laurel School, you watched your children struggle as you struggled to help, but now your children are confident and happy as they learn and grow. We know we could help even more children feel that kind of success, if more people knew about our school.

We could use your help to share the wonderful things that happen here on a daily basis. We would love your help in boosting Laurel School's online presence by leaving a Google review. It only takes a few steps, and it would mean a lot to us.

Just follow the instructions below:

- 1) Either on your phone or computer, go to Google Maps and search for Laurel School of Princeton
- 2) Scroll down to where you see "Write a Review"
- 3) Pick 5 stars and include a written review, and feel free to be as specific as you like.
- 4) Click Post

Please help spread the word about the truly special place to learn we've created at Laurel School!

Until next note, stay cool and have fun!

Dee
